

Fire Warden Training

This course will provide participants with the knowledge and skills to be an effective Fire Warden and to carry out additional duties on fire prevention and building evacuation.

On successful completion, candidates will be able to identify fire hazards in the workplace and carry out basic fire risk assessment. Candidates will understand how their organisation complies with the Fire Safety Act and how the role of the Fire Warden fits with the employer's Fire Safety Plan.

DURATION

1 Day

LANGUAGE

English

COURSE CODE

FS-110021

Fire warden Training

Course Content

The syllabus focuses on:

- Principles of combustion
- Behaviour of fire in buildings
- Behaviour of people in fire situations
- In Place Protection
- Fire precautions
- Means of escape in a fire
- Fire Safety Act (Chapter 109A)
- Fire warden duties
- Case study and checklists

Who Should Attend

Staff who are designated as Fire Wardens.

Method of Study

Classroom training with practical exercises using real life case studies and video

Assessment & Certification

Certification will be issued to participant who attend the course and successfully complete the assessments.

Learning Outcomes

- Understand basic fire principles
- Understand fire and smoke behaviour in buildings
- Understand behaviour of people in a fire situation
- Understand In Place Protection
- Learn how to carry out a basic fire risk assessment
- Understand the employer or building owners organisation to comply with the Fire Safety Act
- Understand the roles and responsibilities of the Fire Warden

ISRC PTE. LTD.

11 Eunos Road 8, #08-01A
Lifelong Learning Institute,
Singapore 408601

Tel (+65) 6747 4123
Email enquiry@isrc.com.sg